

KOBE SHORT RIBS AT GEORGE

Chef George Brown, of eponymous George restaurant, offers his ode to all things Texan in his rendering of Kobe beef short ribs. The ubiquitous short ribs receive a lot of play on Lone Star menus; however, Brown's succulent version does the state proud, making Dallas' culinary star shine a bit brighter. (This is one menu must-have, even if you normally pass on beef dishes.) These savory sweet ribs have gone to finishing school, dressed up a bit with lively glazed root vegetables, pommes purée and herb salad. Don't even bother wielding your blade; with just the piercing of a tine, the tender sweet ribs part effortlessly. Feel free to don your boots, but please remove your 10 gallon—it's a restaurant after all. 7709 Inwood Rd., 214.366.9100

DECEMBER 2005 161